About FIWE:

The Federation Of Indian Women Entrepreneurs (FIWE) has come in to existence following the decisions taken at the International Summit of Women Entrepreneurs held in December 1993 at Hyderabad (India). It was felt that the Women's Wing of National Alliance of Young Entrepreneurs (NAYE) should convert itself into an autonomous national level women entrepreneur's organization whose main function should be networking and to provide package of services to the associations of women entrepreneurs in different parts of country. It was accordingly announced that NAYE Women's Wing will henceforth be known as Federation of Indian Women Entrepreneurs (FIWE)

Federation of Indian Women Entrepreneurs (FIWE) is an apex body of associations of women entrepreneurs situated all over the country. At present it has strength of 30 member associations spread across the length and breadth of the country, having combined strength of more than 15000 women entrepreneurs/professionals across the length and breadth of the country is India's Premier Institution focused towards Women Empowerment dedicated towards Entrepreneurship Development throughout the country. FIWE is dedicated to nurture entrepreneurial bend of mind and open avenues for self employment among women by providing an opportunity to develop their own creativity and capacity for development and growth.

FIWE is built around the idea of ethical, non profitable and sustainable growth amongst women entrepreneurs. It helps women to grow to next level of competence & growth. FIWE tries to fill the gap of information networking, awareness among women entrepreneurs and helps them to understand the current business environment & their unique services and opportunities, through workshops, seminar and awareness program etc.
